

CREATING A WORLD THAT WORKS FOR ALL

“In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth...” (Genesis 1:1). “In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God” (John 1:1). We were having a conversation, sharing, and gaining greater understanding of God, in our last board meeting. The phrase God is the Alpha and the Omega is often used to express the infinite expansiveness of God. Someone reminded us of this phrase and stated that God has a beginning. I shared that my perspective is: “God Is...Always Has Been, and Always Will Be.” The verses listed above and the phrase quoted speaks to the awareness of the beginning of physical creation. And, physical creation is a part of God. I believe, in the beginning God and then God thought and imagined and that which God thought and imagined became and now is. The Word that was in the beginning with God is Its thoughts and imaginings in my understanding and It is God. There is nothing outside of God in my discernment. Today, we exist in a time, in a world, where there are many things and that is because there is not a time when God is inactive within Itself. God is continually thinking, imagining, and being the all of everything which includes the no-thing which is perceived as the space between or complete and total potentiality. With the invention of the internet and all its myriad of functions and sites, we find ourselves where we communicate with one another in real time utilizing the space-time continuum. And, we have the capacity to do it everywhere we go with the linkage of the internet with the cellular phone. Today, we effectively have the potential of Creating A World That Works For All. Through the awareness of the connection of mankind to everything else and linked in totality with God, we have the incentive to be mindful of others or do unto others as we would have them to do unto us (Matthew 7:12).

As we look out onto the world and all its affairs, we can choose one, two, or any number of ways, programs, projects, organizations, or laws that we would like to work with or advocate for. When we turn the mirrors around and begin to see the “I”, in all that is about us, we can gain a heart perspective and authentically say “I See You: A Spiritual Perspective”. The sight of the Soul, or the Spiritual Perspective leads us to greater understanding of our-selves and as we journey on this spiritual path, we have the opportunity to identify and learn Who Is The “I” That Sees. And, we learn that It is God in us as us. As we utilize the I Am consciousness and allow our inward knowing to become our outward being, we begin to express through our outward words and deeds the Love that is the I Am. Then, we begin to be the Love that we desire for ourselves. It is the seed of change, which has been planted within us and if left undisturbed by our fears and our doubts, it will undoubtedly manifest in our outer-world. As we gain full knowledge of our-selves we begin to recognize the I Am of others and everything else. We learn that we are not alone and never can be as we “See That “You” And “I” Are One”. You are indeed my brothers, my sisters, my Mothers, and my Fathers and we are surely One in Great Spirit.

Our work begins when we identify those things that matter most to us and allow our hearts to imagine them in different ways that are more inclusive of the I Am that is You. As humans “being” we do things like act, learn, train, work, play, and love. Through the learning and the practice of spiritual principles we can become that which we are seeking within our heart centers. The processes of breathing in and perceiving who we truly are, doing the work, and the learning of the principles helps us to know that We Are The Human Perspective. Gathering wisdom leads us to an understanding of our world and our wholeness. String the concepts of wisdom, understanding and wholeness together and follow them, in earnest, and you will do the work that guide you to A Greater Understanding Of The Spiritual Perspective. As you embody your ideals you will experience and discover your individualized worldviews and concepts of life. It is the work that you do that imparts greater awareness and purpose to the self on this physical plane. Utilizing the Spiritual Perspective permits us to learn spiritual practices like: affirmations, meditation, imagination, visioning, perfection, silence, sacred service, and wisdom study that support the communities that we love such as our Elysian Community, as our communities support us on the journeys we undertake.

As we learned last month, by conscious awareness, we can align with the Buddha Nature or Christ Consciousness, which is a place of quiet contemplation full of Love, Truth and Understanding. In this place, there is peace, nothing is required of us, and all that Is, is imparted to us, as we seek it. In this place, we learn How To Use The Spiritual Perspective To Work For Us, here on this physical plane of human experiences and being. This year we will explore and endeavor to accomplish these auspicious tasks. As above so below; thus in our new beginnings of this Happy New Year ~ 2016, we speak our words into the Law that is God and nurture our seed ideas as we wait on their manifestation. In these moments, at this now time, with our hearts and eyes-wide-open, we are ~ I Am

Creating A World That Works For All! Rev. Cassandra

